Padre's Portion.... Heaven is not a secure vault protected from outsiders but a “hidden treasure” that is reached by cultivating virtues, Pope Francis said. Before praying the Angelus in St. Peter's Square on the feast of St. Peter and Paul June 29th, the pope reflected on Jesus giving St. Peter, the first pope, the keys to the kingdom of heaven.

“The Mission that Jesus entrusts to Peter is not that of barring the doors to the house, permitting entry only to a few select guests, but of helping everyone to find the way to enter, in faithfulness to the Gospel of Jesus,” Francis said after celebrating Mass in St. Peter's Basilica.

Heaven, he added, is “for everyone. Everyone, everyone, everyone can enter.” The pope said that St. Peter “Received the keys to the kingdom not because he was perfect, no, he is a sinner, but because he was humble, honest and the Father had given him sincere faith.”

Even after many trials and setbacks, the Apostle Peter was the first to experience for himself “the joy and freedom that come from meeting the Lord,” and the first “to understand that authority is a service in order to open the door to Jesus.”
